

AI come

example, a non-program-guide application may provide interactive sports content for a sports channel or interactive home shopping content for a home shopping channel. The interactive content may be in the form of a shopping experience, information services, games, or any other type of suitable interactive content associated with a given television channel, service, program, program type, or program listings. A non-program-guide application that provides an interactive component for a given channel may be delivered to a user's set-top box along with video and audio programming. The interactive television program guide application may alert the user to the presence of the interactive component. One suitable indicator is an icon that may be presented as a overlay on top of the current television channel. Another suitable indicator is an icon or other display element that may be provided as part of a program guide display screen.

Please replace the paragraph that begins at page 16, line 18 and ends at page 16, line 26 with the following amended version of that paragraph:

A2
Cont

Videocassette recorder 48 may pass television programming from television distribution facility 36, display screens generated by set-top box 44, or video signals